Blackboard specs

The blackboard will get the message from the object and then it will assess who needs to see the message. If the message is for a certain object it will send an accountment to that object. If the message is for multiple objects it will send an announcement to the required objects